Courmayeur Mont Blanc, your perfect MICE destination

Make the right choice for your next business event.

Courmayeur is an authentic jewel guarded by the highest mountain in the Alps: the majestic Mont Blanc. Courmayeur Mont Blanc, entered by the New York Times in the 52 places in the world to visit for 2022, famous for its charm, for its elegance and for Italian excellence. This destination will offer you many fantastic activities and opportunities in a unique environment, with breathtaking views, all year round. It is easily accessible, thanks to the highway and the proximity to many international airports, and it boasts a centuries-old tradition in hospitality, offering valuable accommodation and services that can meet all your needs. Courmayeur Mont Blanc is characterized by a large pedestrian old town, full of boutiques and bars where you can taste the excellence of both starred and traditional Italian cuisine, and it also maintains an alpine village size and essence, which allows you to work in a unique context. You will enjoy the opportunity to discover the place where the history of alpinism and high-quality congress facilities are combined. Courmayeur Mont Blanc offers the right solution for every event; moreover, for those who want to dive into the heart of Mont Blanc, on the top of Europe, and plan a meeting event able to give guests the opportunity to observe the world from a higher point of view, Skyway Mont Blanc offers a unique location where you can plan all kinds of initiatives, conventions, corporate meetings, but also private events.

Location and Connections

Located at the foot of the Mont Blanc Massif, on the French-Swiss border, Courmayeur enjoys a privileged position. The resort is served by an efficient road network and a bus station.

Airports

Courmayeur is served by a polycentric airport system consisting of Geneva, Milan Malpensa and Turin airports, which serve over 5 million passengers per year.

Geneva-Cointrin - 116 km

It is the nearest airport to the alpine resort. The Helvetic airport, with its 17,9 million passengers transported towards 159 destinations, is attainable in approximately 1h through a shuttle bus service.

Turin Caselle - 149 Km

With about 4 million passengers in 2019, this airport represents a further point of accessibility for Courmayeur, that can be reached in 1h 45' via Aosta.

Milan Malpensa - 211 km

It is the second Italian airport for passenger traffic after Rome-Fiumicino; here, several airlines work for about 30 million passengers and 1399 flights to 60 countries. Courmayeur can be reached in 2h 15' from the airport, thanks to a shuttle bus service, via Aosta, managed by the regional public transport operator, Arriva Italia.

Aosta C. Gex - 30 Km

This airport is open to international tourist and commercial traffic and is located less than 40 minutes far from Courmayeur, and it provides an additional access to the Western Alps for private air taxi and heli-transfer services.

Roads

Courmayeur is one of the few Alpine resorts to be well served by highways that link it to the rest of Italy and Europe.

Turin/Milan

The A5 Turin-Aosta-Mont Blanc Tunnel highway is the main link that allows an easy arrival to Courmayeur, ensuring rapid transfers from the main airports and from the main train stations of Turin and Milan.

Bus

- Arriva-Savda: direct connections with Milan and Turin
- Flixbus: connections with the main European cities
- Freccialink: intermodal connections with high-speed trains and buses

Aosta Valley

The main road “Strada Statale 26”, which runs throughout the region, offers the possibility of a clear segmentation in traffic flows.

Europe

For those who are coming from central Europe, connections are provided via Mont Blanc Tunnel from France and Grand Saint Bernard Tunnel from Switzerland.

A spectacular view, a unique place and the traditional alpine hospitality

Courmayeur is located at the foot of Mont Blanc, which with its 4810 m altitude is the highest peak in Italy and in Europe. Surrounded by 40 majestic peaks over 4000 meters, it is the cradle of international alpinism and boasts the Alpine Guide Society, the oldest in Italy and second in the world, founded in 1850. Courmayeur has been welcoming its guests in this unique setting for over 150 years.

Italy at Its peak

Courmayeur Mont Blanc offers the authentic essence of Italian style, it is a gourmet paradise with sophisticated cuisine, 50 designer shops for a limitless shopping experience, tailor-made services able to satisfy any request and more than 50 hotels from 1 to 5 stars, for every budget.

The ideal place for smart working

At the foot of Mont Blanc, a new model of sustainable and healthy smart-working is born.

Thanks to its cosmopolitan soul and to the cultural sensitivities of its guests and residents, Courmayeur is a valid candidate to be the right place to work while immersed in nature, always connected with the world and also while regaining your own balance, thanks to the tranquility of these valleys and the people who live there.

Not only an all-year-round outdoor paradise

The fact that you can practice many activities during all seasons makes Courmayeur the ideal place for every sport and nature lover. The professionals on the territory will allow you to try new experiences as part of your events, in total safety and with dedicated programs. Courmayeur also offers enthusiastic indoor alternatives to meet every need

A tailored location for each type of event

Congresses, press conferences, meetings, team buildings, company presentations, celebrations, exclusive dinners can find in Courmayeur Mont Blanc the ideal place to satisfy all kind of requests and amaze your stakeholders with various locations, from meeting rooms of all sizes, to large conference rooms, up to an arena with 3000 seats.

100% renewable energy

Organizing an event for your company in Courmayeur is also an extraordinary opportunity to demonstrate your care about sustainability. In Aosta Valley, electricity production can be defined as 100% renewable: about 99% of electricity is generated by hydroelectric plants, the remaining 1% from other systems, mostly photovoltaic. Courmayeur shows its attention to the environment also by constant commitment during events, through sustainable solutions and awareness, such as the signature of the “Charter of Courmayeur”.
